New President and CEO at MHA

SPRINGFIELD, MA (July 24, 2017) The Board of Directors of Mental Health Association, Inc. is pleased to announce the appointment of Cheryl Fasano as the new President and CEO. With over 20 years experience in nonprofit leadership positions Cheryl brings a wealth of knowledge and experience in nonprofit management. She has been with MHA since 2013, serving as Chief Financial Officer and then as Chief Operating Officer overseeing all administrative functions. Cheryl is an alumnus of Western New England University and comments "I am honored to be chosen as the President and CEO of an agency that makes such a difference in the lives of so many people. I look forward to working with our very dedicated and committed staff."

About MHA: MHA is committed to building an agency of excellence for its participants, staff and community. We strive to be the premier provider of residential and support services, noted for innovation, commitment and dedication. We envision a community where all individuals have the skills and opportunities to achieve their aspirations. Our aim is to create an atmosphere where dignity, respect and equality are paramount, where all individuals can reach their maximum potential. Through flexibility, continuous self-examination and knowledge of current and effective practices, MHA will remain on the cutting edge of service delivery.
